JILL AVENUE COLLAPSE. Ron Morlen, Joe Crider, Gus Christich and Tom Jenkins, all employees of the Granite City Street Department, observe the cave-in of Jill Avenue near Aubrey Avenue Thursday. Heavy rains June 3 increased the groundwater level and caused sewer mains to break in the city. After the mains broke, spil seeped into the lines, causing the ground to collapse. According to Max Warfield, Street Department superintendent, mains in the 3300 block of Princeton Drive and in the 3200 block of Davis Avenue may also be broken.

Taxes inching up

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Taxes are beginning to edge up again in the Quad-City area, after decreasing a year ago. New rates were announced Saturday by Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles.

Determination of the real estate rates, completed a week earlier than in 1982, will trigger the preparation of annual tax bills. The new rates are applied to individual and corporate assessments in calculating the bills.

School rates are up throughout the local community—seven cents per $100 assessed valuation ($3.38 to $3.45) in Granite City District Nine, 19.8 cents ($3.472 to $3.67) in Venice District Three and 26.6 cents ($2.536 to $2.802) in Madison District 12.

The Madison County governmental rate is rising 8.7 cents, from $9.9 to $6.6. The countywide valuation total has climbed $48,708, 170 to $1,364,230,065.

Holding even in Miss Bowles' computations are the Metro East Sanitary District at 29.1 cents, Belleville Area College District $22 at 18.2 cents, and the Long Lake fire district at 30.2 cents.

Venice's municipal rate is rising slightly, 1.78 to $1.797, but the other two city rates are down, including a 5.6-cent drop in Granite City, $1.43 to $1.374.

Madison's city rate is decreasing 5.6

cents, from $1.063 to 99.7 cents. A year ago, there was a drop from $2.04 to $1.063 when utility rates became a major revenue source for Madison.

Two rates that did not exist a year ago have been certified for the 1982 tax year (summer 1983 collection). They are 18.5 cents per $100 valuation for the village of Pontoon Beach and 12.5 cents for the Cloverleaf-East Madison fire district.

As noted, some rates are up and some are down. With assessments also rising, in most cases a taxpayer will encounter a higher real estate tax bill this year. The Granite City school district assessment total is higher by $14,712,669, moving from $243,768,768 to $258,481,437.

City valuations are up $814,556 in Venice, $18,469,020 to $19,283,576; up $920,816 in Madison, $14,007,420 to $14,928,236; and up $13,917,057 in Granite City, $174,936,329 to $188,303,386.

Granite City's park district tax rate is up from 20.8 to 23.1 cents and Venice's park rate also is increasing, from 24.3 to 24.6 cents.

Madison County's Special Service Area One sanitary sewer system tax rate, collected in several local townships, is dropping from $1.142 to $1.113 after decreasing a year ago from $1.314 to $1.142.

Want warnings of GC sewer backups

By GEORGEANN MCGEE
of the Press-Record

Kenneth F. Spalding, 3317 Colgate Place, is seeking a city warning system that would let residents know when nearby sewer line problems might cause sewage to back up into their homes. He was among more than 20 homeowners in Ladegers Estates to have sewer water spurt through sinks, toilets and shower drains following the June 3 and 4 heavy rains.

Spalding, assistant principal at Granite City High School, told the Granite City Council last week that his basement was flooded with a mixture of raw sewage and storm water three times in two days. He estimated damage to his home at about $3,500.

At least one other home on Johnson Road suffered several inches of sewer water flooding.

As a result, Fourth Ward Aldermen system is feasible and to discuss continuing Braicraft drainage problems.

According to Mac G. Warfield, superintendent of streets, sewer line backups are unpredictable, making any advanced warning plan impractical.

Spalding's problems began at 2 a.m. Friday morning, June 3, when his son heard a rushing sound coming from the basement. The father went downstairs and found water coming like a geyser from a basement toilet. About four to five inches of murky water covered the floor.

He quickly sealed off the bathroom sewer line valve in about a minute and worked the rest of the night cleaning what had been a finished basement, complete with a raised wood floor. Later, he reopened the bathroom sewer line connection to use the water to wash away the mess.

"About 10 a.m. I thought I had it cleaned up," Spalding said. Some members of the family, weary from the

Tie vote on GC residency rule

Sixth Ward Alderman Woodrow "Woody" Moad says he is fulfilling a campaign promise by asking the Granite City Council to strike down an ordinance which exempts certain city employees from living in the city, but can get only half of the council to back him.

Four of about 200 full-time city employees currently reside outside the city limits. The city comptroller lives in South St. Louis. The city engineer and the city traffic engineer live in Florissant, Mo., and Belleville respectively, and the wastewater plant superintendent resides on Eduardo Drive, less than a mile outside the city.

Most full-time city employees are bound by a city residency requirement, but that law does not apply to department heads or those classified as executive personnel.

Moad plans to consult with the city attorney draft a residency ordinance for a future council vote was defeated in a tie vote at the last city council meeting. Moad plans to consult with the city attorney to find a way to eventually bring a residency ordinance before the council.

Second Ward Alderman Fred "Pat" Schuman, who voted against the motion, said he agrees in spirit with the proposal, but doubts the city would have hired such a qualified city comptroller if relocation had been an employment requirement.

Seventh Ward Alderman Paul R. Bowler backed the residency proposal and suggested giving non-resident employees six months to a year to move into the city. "Give them time to decide where their commitment lies," Bowler said.

Moad said he is concerned about the paychecks of non-resident employees being spent outside the city and thinks employees should have to live close to the decisions they make. "Some of the aldermen say we would be punishing those employees living out of the city," Moad said, "but we're punishing residents living here if we don't require it. I just think we should treat everybody equally."

Although he said the city's high unemployment rate also is at issue here, he is not opposed to opening employment searches to non-residents for certain technical jobs, if, once hired, the new employees agree to move into the city.

Those voting for the motion were: Aldermen Casner Skubish, First Ward; Sharon S. Perjak, Fourth Ward; Lloyd H. Bailey and Jake Varadian, Fifth Ward; Moad, Sixth Ward; and Bowler and Michael E. Modrusil, Seventh Ward.

Those opposing the motion were: Alderman Everett A. Morlen, First Ward; Schuman and Sam D. Whitmer, Second Ward; Carl J. Kittel and Paul Fisk, Third Ward; Phillip K. Miller, Fourth Ward; Stephen C. Saltich, Sixth Ward. Mayor Paul Schuler was absent.

Explosives in Mitchell

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

Hazardous military equipment will be temporarily stored on West Chain of Rocks Road, despite objections from the Madison County Sheriff's Department.

C.L. Whitten Truck Lines, Inc., the firm that hauls the equipment, learned from Madison County officials last week that it could store trucks on property leased from Slater Trucking Co., 2200 W. Chain of Rocks Road, Mitchell. The trucking firm hauls materials for the U.S. military, including missiles, rockets, grenades, dynamite and TNT. Representatives of the firm said trailer trucks would be briefly parked on the land for periods not to exceed eight hours with no more than three trucks taking rest stops on the property at any time.

The property is zoned for heavy industrial use, allowing for storage of explosives, county officials said.

The parking lot is just east of St. Thomas Road, near Route 3 and the Chain of Rocks Canal, and is surrounded by a six-foot fence. The 200-by-200-foot area is guarded 24 hours a day. The KOA Campground, about two-tenths of a mile from the lot is the closest area people might be staying, because there are no homes near the area.

Newspaper reports last week indicated that the sheriff's department objected to the storage plan because it is near an area where police often are called to deal with problems.

But Capt. Robert Hertz, chief of operations for the sheriff's department, said that was a misunderstanding and the specific area where the materials will be stored is not the scene of constant problems.

It is possible that when the county board is made aware of the type of material the trucking firm plans to store there, it will amend the zoning ordinance or take action against the plan. "It will be taken care of by the zoning people," Hertz said.

Eftimoff loves his limousines

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

If Vasil Eftimoff didn't smoke cigars, he would probably not own three limousines.

Cigars and chauffeuring, which is what he does with the limousines, don't seem to have much in common. But several years ago his wife, Anita, and son, Jim, became so annoyed with Eftimoff's cigar smoke invading the family car that they persuaded him to buy a limo.

As Eftimoff drove, Anita and Jim could slide the glass partition up and ride in unsmoky comfort as they sat in the back.

"He chain smokes cigars, and we couldn't travel any distance with him. He does get irritable without his cigars," says Mrs. Eftimoff.

So, he bought a 1966 limousine that belonged to the late Secretary of State Paul Powell (it did not, Eftimoff says, have any shoe boxes or hidden money in it).

Not long after the purchase of that limousine, the family went to the wedding of a friend in Detroit and Eftimoff was asked to chauffeur the bridal party. He agreed and since then has chauffeured at more than 100 weddings.

Most of the time, he doesn't know the couple getting married. What's more, he does it for free, asking only for a photograph from the wedding.

The unusual hobby has taken Eftimoff to weddings in several states, including Michigan, Indiana, Tennessee and Ohio.

"I appreciate doing all of them. It adds something to the wedding. With expenses nowadays with halls, gowns and flowers, if I didn't do it, most of them wouldn't be able to afford a chauffeur," he says.

If the couple's religion allows it, Eftimoff chills a magnum of champagne in a brass ice bucket shaped like a top hat and has it waiting for them as they emerge from the church.

A tape is made of the newlyweds' conversation from the church to the reception, and Eftimoff gives it to them as a gift. Although he tells the couple in advance that he is taping their conversation, they usually forget, he says.

Once the bride is safely at the church, he is dressed formally, complete with a chauffeur's cap. He tries to find out the colors for the bridal party and then coordinates his attire.

As he explains his procedure, Eftimoff rushes out of his living room and comes back with two suit coats of different colors and materials. Appropriate dress is required according to the season, he explains.

Once the bride is safely at the church, Eftimoff works the door, talking to guests and waiting for the wedding ceremony to end.

The most boring time for him is waiting for the photographer to finish after the ceremony. There is no one for him to talk to and nothing to do.

When the bridal party emerges, however, he is kept busy—sometimes until the early morning hours.

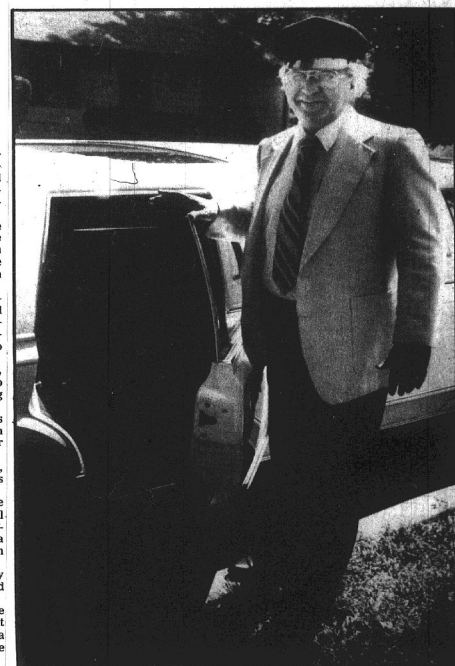

Receptions are among his favorite parts of the wedding and he usually will stay until the end. Should he be chauffeuring more than one wedding in a day, he picks the "better" reception and attends it, he says and laughs.

His hobby has left him with many stories to tell, some of them more vivid than others.

There is the time he chauffeured the wedding of friends with a reception at West Port Plaza. Because it was a "very fancy wedding," two limos were used. Anita was with him.

During the reception, a snowstorm hit the area and the Eftimoffs were stuck for the weekend. "It could have been cheerleaders! I was marooned

June 15 deadline for Bake-Off recipe entry

For dessert lovers, the 1983 Illinois State Fair Culinary Arts Contest is a dream come true. They've just added a new division—baked desserts using dairy foods—to the roster of events leading up to the Grand Bake-Off.

Other categories include bake-a-cake, yeast breads and pies. The line-up is complete with the main dish with best and main dish with pork category. It was so successful last year that it has been brought back this year as separate competitions, which will not compete in the Grand Bake-Off.

All contests will again be on the main stage of the Hobby, Arts and Crafts Building on Aug. 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20 with Grand Bake-Off at 1 p.m. on Aug. 20. Each main dish division will have its own special prize for the first place winner. The fair is offering a total of $375 in premium money, with private organizations contributing additional prizes in some events. Last year's overall winner was Chris Husley of Bloomington with her own Mystery Pecan Pie in which cream cheese was added to a traditional recipe.

Interested men and women must submit their recipes to the Illinois State Fair, Culinary Arts Contest,

General Entry Department,
P.O. Box 576, Springfield, Ill., 62706, no later than Wednesday, June 15. All entries should be typed or legibly printed on a 5 by 8 inch card or piece of paper.
Contestants may submit no more than five recipes.

Entrants chosen as finalists will be notified by mail and will then be required to submit a $2.50 entry fee. Judging will be done on the basis of flavor, texture and appearance. Participants must be Illinois residents, of amateur status and must not have been a grand champion winner in a previous Bake-Off or Culinary Arts Contest. No
previously entered and accepted recipes may be submitted again.

Once again a cookbook will be published, including all the recipes from all the contestants. Each entrant will be eligible to receive one free of charge.

Infant car seat law effective July 1

For Illinois residents, installing an infant car seat is now more than a vital exercise in safety. It's the law.
On July 1, a state law will go into effect requiring residents to provide car seats for children under 2 years of age and seat restraints for children from 3 to 6 years.

All car seats manufactured after Jan. 1, 1981, meet the federal safety standards for protection of children, but the big question still facing most parents is: which car seat is best for my child?

"The 'best' car seat is the one that is most comfortable for your child," says Neil S.
Levy, D.O., chairman of the Pediatrics Department at the Chicago Osteopathic Medical Center and the Olympia Fields Osteopathic Medical Center. "It is also the one that is easiest to install, and the one you will use every time you travel with your child as he grows."

Dr. Levy, an osteopathic pediatrician, with a special interest in infant and child safety, says there are three major categories of car seat from which to choose: the five-point harness, the full shield, and the harness with partial shield.

"Each has advantages and disadvantages," he says.
"The five-point harness appears to be the most comfortable for infants and small children. It leaves the arms and legs free to move and causes the least restraint as it anchors the child to the seat. However, because of the necessary buckling procedure for two shoulder straps, two lap straps, and a crotch strap, it is also the least convenient."

According to Dr. Levy, the full shield car seat is the most convenient because the shield flips up and out for easy placement of the child.

Then, with one easy movement, the shield comes down, locking the child into the seat.

"But it is also the least comfortable," he says,
"because of the mild compression needed to hold the child in place, and the tight quarters it imposes on the infant."

Dr. Levy points out that the harness with partial shield incorporates both the advantages and disadvantages of the other two car seats. "It allows more freedom of movement than the full shield type, but on the other hand, it's less comfortable than the five-point harness."

Here are some additional points he says should be considered when choosing an infant car seat:

Vinyl seat. "Easy to clean, but becomes hot in warm weather and could cause skin injury or excessive sweating and discomfort." Cloth seat. "Easier on the skin, but more difficult to clean if a child should wet through his diapers." Shield seats. "These are not for every child. Some have a shield that is so high it obstructs the child's view, creating discomfort."

Dr. Levy strongly emphasizes that installing an infant car seat is one of the most important actions a parent will ever take. "It's more than compliance with the new law. It can literally mean the difference between life and death for your child."

Eftimoff

with," he says and nods at Anita. She laughs.

"The bride and groom were there too with their new in-laws. It was just one big happy family," he says.

"Then was the time he was invited to a reception and decided to have 'one drink.' Before the evening ended — it was the next morning, actually — Eftimoff had helped the band pack up and the bride party put their gifts in the car.

"It's been an interesting hobby," says Anita, who goes along only when they are invited to a wedding. When he is chauffeuring and doesn't know the couple, she doesn't go. "It's his hobby, his fun," she says.

Undoubtedly the hobby will continue full force when Eftimoff, who is 58, retires June 30 as administrative assistant for pupil personnel services for the Granite City school district.

Dorothy, his youngest sister, and her husband Glen Beck of Chesterfield, Mo., gave Eftimoff a retirement present that will ensure the hobby keeps going — in style.

"Let me show you my new car," he says. Like a little boy anxious to show a new toy, Eftimoff leads his visitor outside.

Sitting at the curb is a 1983 Lincoln Presidential Limousine.

Eftimoff, who by now has on his chauffeur's cap, opens the back door, smiles and majestically waves his arm toward the interior. "Get in," he says.

In the back is a TV set turned to afternoon cartoons. Below the TV set on a console is a stereo system, complete with cassette deck and a bar offering bourbon, scotch, gin and vodka, electronically, at the touch of a button.

The burgundy velvet interior has beige piping for trim. His sister had matching pillows made.

Eftimoff explains that he took his sister to lunch and she asked him if he wanted a new limousine. "No," he says he told her, "I already have three."

Not to be discouraged, on Easter Sunday Dorothy opened the front door of her home and led her brother to peer outside. Parked in front of the house was the white limo, with burgundy stripes down the sides and "Vasil Eftimoff" scrawled across each front door in gold.

The windows in back are tinted for privacy, of course. The keys are gold. A plaque above the separate stereo system in front says, "Vasil and Anita, Happy Traveling, Love, Dot and Glen."

The partition is etched glass and for complete privacy, a burgundy panel slides up to seclude the passengers — or the chauffeur.

"It tines off my mother-in-law, or my wife. Or she tines me out," he says.

The vanity license plates have been ordered and say "Efti."

Two other limos also are parked at the curb and passersby gaze at the scene. There is a 1974 black formal limo with plates that say "Vasil."

"I thought some Greek in Chicago would already have 'Vasil' (for a vanity plate)," he says. Once he got the first plate, however, the others were easy.

"Vasil 1" is a blue limo with rhinestone guitars and the word "music" written in rhinestones. Once, it belonged to a country-western singer.

The former Powell limo was wrecked as Eftimoff was driving past a school and the man behind him swerved to avoid a child and rear-ended the car instead.

Although the Eftimoffs have two other cars, they often drive one of the limos.

When Anita goes grocery shopping, she sits in back. She gets a large charge out of being chauffeured around town. "It is funny to watch how people look in and try to see who is in the car," she says. In return, she waves and smiles.

However, it can be a bit frightening. "Cars come much too close to try and see who is inside."

Eftimoff also has used the limos for funerals. On June 29, all three limos will be used when the Armenian Apostolic Church.

Occasionally, he turns the keys over to son Jim, 22, who recently graduated from Trinity College in San Antonio, Texas.

Once, Jim took a bunch of friends to Kiel Auditorium in St. Louis for a concert. When they pulled up in the limo, fans waiting outside swarmed the car, thinking it was the performers.

For the most part, though, the limos are used for weddings.

Most people hear about Eftimoff's chauffeuring service through newspaper articles and friends. He prefers that couples interested in having him chauffeur for them call several months in advance.

Already, he is booking up rapidly for the summer and into the fall. One prospective groom has even called about a wedding in February, 1984.

And Eftimoff looks forward to each of them, catering specifically to the brides. "I say, 'It's your day, we do what you want,'" he says.

Both Anita and Vasil have romantic streaks. She says, "All brides are beautiful. It's always such a happy occasion. Everybody is so dressed up."

When asked how long they have been married, she says without a thought, "99 years." (They have been married 24 years.)

For his part, his actions convey his romanticism.

The added attraction of his hobby is his talkative nature. "He enjoys talking," his wife says. "He has a phenomenal memory for names. He has a degree of accuracy that is just unique."

As she speaks, Vasil is out of the room looking for the countless scrapbooks in which he puts photographs and notes from the couples.

Requests for photographs are not always honored — some couples break up before the pictures come back. Others send large photographs, but Eftimoff says he prefers smaller ones, suitable for the scrapbooks.

Some couples try to give him gifts, which he usually does not accept. One bride, however, charmed him by having a gold pin made with his initials on it. He had to accept it, says Anita, "there aren't many other 'V.E.'s around."

Generally, he prefers to render his services for nothing, even allowing the bride party to decorate the car with anything except paint. He adds that tin cans are not allowed on interstates, an important point in his hobby. Occasionally, he'll even chauffeur a group of bar-hoppers.

Watching him drive, his chauffeur cap perched on his graying hair, his eyes peering back at the curious, his smile in the rearview mirror, there is no doubt that Vasil Eftimoff thoroughly enjoys his hobby.

Concern over more public unions

Much ado about nothing, or quite the opposite? These are our questions over pending legislation which would give collective bargaining rights to virtually all public employees in Illinois.

Our first reaction was, "so what? All teachers who want to join here now are in the American Federation of Teachers. The police are under the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees; other city and county employees are in the Teamsters, Operating Engineers and numerous other unions. It is ludicrous to think that the legislation would give public employees that right, since most already have it.

It has always amused us that teachers are prohibited from forming union contracts with school boards, but are allowed to do so. For many years, it has been newspaper policy to say that the teachers have reached a new "working agreement," not a contract.

Teacher strikes can't be strikes; that is illegal. They are "stop-work actions" or "walkouts," technically.

The public employees' collective bargaining bills sailed through the House surprisingly easily and may clear the Senate with similar ease.

Had the school boards of years past stood firmly behind the state laws prohibiting teachers from collective bargaining, we might not have reached the point we did this year locally where some good, young, motivated teachers had to be dismissed while some lesser qualified teachers were retained. There also are many able older teachers, of course.

People give lip service to supporting moves to fight mediocrity in public schools, but then allow officials to make choices not in the students' best interests and supposedly in the unions' best interests. Teachers' thinking is that merit pay, or dismissals other than by seniority, would vest too much power in potentially arbitrary hands.

We think the changes being considered at Springfield regarding public employees are a bad idea.

And it could bankrupt cities and school systems if the final draft calls for binding automatic arbitration when early talks fail. We believe Illinois arbitrators are (a) often less than fair, sensible and detached and (b) that the arbitrators find it frighteningly easy to order monetary settlements while knowing that the consequences will be borne entirely by somebody other than themselves.

Professor F. Henry Firsching has come up with an interesting, if not entirely practical, idea to end all wars—merge everyone under a world government.

He says there are examples plenty to show that it works. The original colonies fought and bickered until they were brought together as the United States of America.

England, centuries ago, was fragmented into fiefdoms, where war lords maintained their castles and armed forces and waged almost continual warfare among themselves. Eventually, the more resourceful warlords overcame the other local fiefdoms until seven small kingdoms emerged. Eventually, one king took over all seven and all warfare between the kingdoms ceased.

War "is a crude and very expensive way to settle disputes. The basic theme is that 'might makes right,' " Professor Firsching states.

Under one government, "fighting between countries would be as unthinkable as armed conflict between Illinois and Indiana. Disputes would arise and these could be settled in world court. There would be no need to squander national treasures on weapons, no need to maintain armies, no need for young men to die on battlefields," he says.

The idea is interesting, but we would shy away. A world government would eventually mean a world balance of goods and wealth. That could only mean an erosion of the standard of living for which Americans have worked so hard the last 207 years. We kind of like our fiefdom the way it is, thank you.

Immune ailment 1980s' 'plague'

Acquired immune deficiency syndrome, known by the acronym of AIDS, is one of the most frightening health threats in memory. It breaks down our immune system's ability to fight illness.

Two key needs are: to develop a way of reversing the deficiency and, in the meantime, to prevent the syndrome from contaminating the national blood supply.

As the National Conference of Mayors resolutions committee said yesterday in Denver, Congress ought to give high priority to fighting AIDS. Americans currently afflicted total 1,552 and the figure is growing at a rate of five a day, based on reports to the National Center for Disease Control in Atlanta. There are 28 cases in Illinois, including Cook County.

Nationwide, more than 500 persons have died from AIDS. Unless the cause and cure are found, 70 percent or more of the patients are likely to die from one of the opportunistic diseases that attacks the body.

AIDS victims usually contract either a rare form of pneumonia or Kaposi's sarcoma, which is a type of cancer. Other threats are a generalized infection that invades all parts of the body, and toxoplasmosis, an infection that damages the central nervous system, especially in infants.

Investigators are stumped, so far. There are indications AIDS may be caused by a virus or that it may be blood-borne, but these are not certainties. Dr. William L. Kempf, Illinois Public Health Department director, said Friday.

U.S. Health and Human Services Secretary Margaret M. Heckler last week called it a major health problem. Los Angeles police are considering wearing gloves during arrests, and ending mouth-to-mouth resuscitation for accident victims, Mayor Thomas Bradley said at the mayors' conference.

High-risk groups include persons with hemophilia, Haitian immigrants to the U.S., homosexual males and intravenous drug abusers. Among the women who have AIDS, there is concern that it may be transmitted to their infants.

Blood donation programs need to be given closer attention than in the past, and special precautions are being taken by doctors, nurses and persons who work with blood.

AIDS research amounts to $25 million this year and a $50 million appropriation is being suggested for 1984. Because of its mysterious nature, and the fact that it nearly always is fatal within several years, AIDS is being described as the 1980s version of the plague that blighted mankind centuries ago. No time should be lost in seeking a solution.

Birthday of freedom's symbol

By Major Daniel Cedusky, Illinois National Guard recruiting officer—I am your flag, born June 14, 1777. I am more than just cloth shaped into a design.

I am the refuge of the world's oppressed, the silent sentinel of freedom, the emblem of the greatest sovereign nation on earth.

The inspiration for which American patriots gave their lives and fortunes, I have led your sons into battle from Valley Forge to the end of the world.

I walk in silence with each of your honored dead, to their final resting place beneath silent white crosses, row upon row. I have flown through peace and war, strife and prosperity.

My red stripes symbolize the blood spilled in defense of this glorious nation. My white stripes signify the burning tears shed by Americans who lost their sons and daughters. My blue field is indicative of God's heaven under which I fly. My stars clustered together unify 50 states as one, for God and country.

Old Glory is my nickname and proudly I wave on high.

Honor, respect and defend me. Never let my enemies tear me from my lofty position, lest I never return.

Keep alive the fires of patriotism. Strive earnestly for the spirit of democracy.

Worship God and keep His commandments and I shall remain the bulwark of peace and freedom for all mankind. I am your flag.

Believes trucks should pay more road taxes

Drivers of passenger vehicles will be hit with more than 80 percent of the new state highway taxes contained in HB 1305, $376 million will fall on passenger vehicles. Heavy trucks which cause much of the damage to pavement will pay less than 14 percent of the new taxes.

According to the Taxpayers Federation, passenger vehicles will pay $375,800,000 more while small trucks will pay $28,500,000 more and trucks weighing 50,000 pounds and more will pay $53,500,000 more.

Of the $468 million in new highway taxes contained in HB 1305, $376 million will fall on passenger vehicles. Heavy trucks which cause much of the damage to pavement will pay less than 14 percent of the new taxes.

There is an alternative... the weight distance tax for heavy trucks which more fairly distributes the tax burden.

Sure, truck companies say they will pay more under a weight distance tax. But then they should pay more.

Ask the motorist who will be tapped for $375.8 million in higher taxes and causes little of the road damage.

If the highway tax increase is to be spread fairly across all classes of users, then HB 1305 must be amended to reduce the additional burden being imposed on motorists.

Simple fairness in highway taxes requires that those who cause the damage should pay for the repair.

Dedicated staff will be effective this fall

Several of our more experienced teachers have remarked to me that a good teacher will get the job done with a class size of forty while a poor one can't get the job done with a class of twenty.

The job will not be easy. But as a parent of four children in our system, I believe in the professionalism, the concern and the dedication of our District Nine teaching staff to get the job done.

cleanup, slept. They awoke about 11:30 a.m. Friday to another 10 inches of water in the basement. "I was appalled to find the basement full again...there was raw human sewage coming in at this point," he said. The second cleanup effort lasted into the evening.

Spalding was upstairs resting Saturday morning when his family told him the basement was flooded again. At the time the third flooding occurred, it had not rained in about 24 hours, according to the assistant principal.

Spalding and his wife then circulated among their neighbors in the Colgate Place and Princeton Drive area and heard stories of flooding from more than 20 other residents.

Neighbors reported sewer water forced its way through sinks, washer drain pipes, and in one instance, through a clothes washer itself.

One of the neighbors he talked to was Alderman Miller, 3245 Fehling Road, who had been on lines in Springfield Friday when he received word that eight to 10 inches of water had collected in his basement.

He counts his loss in terms of sentimental value — magazine and newspaper articles about President John F. Kennedy had been destroyed and other items he had accumulated through the years had to be discarded.

Residents are "pretty upset," Miller said. Most, if not all, are expected to personally bear the financial losses from the sewer flooding, since most insurance policies apparently do not cover such damage.

When he sought legal advice from the city on the residents' right to claim damages, Miller said he was told they could file a claim. The alderman, however, did not seem optimistic that such claims would be paid.

Miller thinks some residents would like the city to organize a warning system, but he is not exactly sure what approach might be the best.

Spalding suggests the police department use loudspeakers to warn residents when lift stations and pumps, which keep water flowing, break down. When pumps and stations fail, a warning system at the police station immediately notifies officers.

Spalding believes the failure of a pump at the Fehling Road sewer break was probably responsible for the sewer backup in his basement. The pump had stopped, at least for a brief time, early Friday and Saturday morning.

Warfield agrees, but says the major problem was not a failed pump, but overloaded sewer lines clogged with sand and sewage from the city's sewer breaks.

He also says lines draining Lueders Estates accept water from a large area, increasing the chances for sewer backups when coupled with the current sewer break situation.

Commenting for himself as a homeowner, Warfield says he makes sure his outlets are plugged when it starts raining.

Some drains, however, cannot be plugged at a moment's notice, as the case of the shower drain that gurgled several inches of sewer water into the basement of the home of Oscar and Irene Mooshegian, 3108 Colgate Place.

Mrs. Mooshegian, a clerk at the Granite City Public Library Branch, did not suspect a problem until the next morning, when a library patron told her about flooding in the neighborhood.

"The carpeting is ruined," Mrs. Mooshegian said. "It isn't a pleasant experience and it isn't just the smell, but the fact that there's sewage in your basement...all kinds of germs."

A number of years ago this basement had been flooded with sewage. Now, after the second time, she says she does not want it to happen again. But, like the street superintendent and her alderman, she sees no ready solution, except one — "I really think they should do something with that stupid sewer system."

SEMC to build center on Rt. 157

A "green light" has been given by the Illinois State Facilities Planning Board to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, which next year will begin building a treatment center near Highway 157 on property purchased from Home Nursery.

The $4,400,000 Edwardsville area inpatient and outpatient facility will provide 30 beds for adult chemically dependent patients and 10 beds for adolescent patients.

The site also is to be used for a center offering outpatient services to cancer and stroke victims, and a life-care residential center for retired persons. Provision of physicians' offices also is a possibility.

Doctors, nurses, administrators, counselors and dietary and maintenance employees associated with the center are expected to total 80, the equivalent of 50 full-time employees.

Tabot Hall at SEMC in Granite City will phase out use of 20 beds for the chemically dependent. That area of the local hospital will be used for counseling services and outpatient care.

Steve Hunter, vice president of marketing, said construction of the initial Edwardsville building may require 18 months; it is to open in late 1985 or early 1986.

Architectural and financing plans currently are being completed.

The 30-acre site includes a pond, which will be developed through upgrading of a dam. There will be three or four wings in the building and it will be designed for future expansion.

Alcohol and drug dependent patients will spend up to 28 days residing there, followed by individual and family counseling on an outpatient basis.

Aiding in planning the facilities was a committee including John Fruit, president and chief executive officer of Edwardsville National Bank and Trust. The committee completed its studies last fall.

Fruit, who was named to the SEMC board of directors in late 1982, says, "The people of Edwardsville are excited about SEMC's plans to build here. It means we will have medical services that were unavailable before. The new facilities will be an asset to our community, and the need for the services will grow as the community grows."

JEWELRY JOTTINGS

By RUSS WALKER

In the First Century, it was believed that there were fabulous imaginary gems which originated by magic and had occult powers to kindle fire, quiet winds and impart knowledge. Some were male, other female.

Our diamonds and other gems are not actually magical but they do have the power to enchant anyone who loves beauty.

SPRINGFIELD — Forget about winning being the only thing. The Collinsville Kahok baseball team will tell you second place isn't that bad.

While other teams came into the state Class AA baseball tournament at Lanthier Park with lofty reputations and batting averages, the Kahoks simply kept winning. And when they were finally beaten 2-0 by Waukegan West in the championship game, they may have realized how far they had come in taking second.

"It would have been nice to win, but we're just tickled to death to be here," Kahok Coach Russ Keene said. "I was so surprised to be here, I told the kids somebody's got to win it, it might as well be us."

But the Kahoks could not score any runs for pitcher Pete Delkus, who earned the tournament's most valuable player award for his ironman work on the mound. The senior right-hander pitched two complete games in the two-day tourney, giving up just seven hits and two earned runs.

He fired a three-hitter at Waukegan, but the Raiders' John Sesin did the same while not giving up any runs. "I feel like I could go out and pitch some more right now," Delkus said. "I pitched three complete games in five days. I can't complain about that."

Although Kahok designated hitter Tom Lewis led off the game with a single to center, the Kahoks could not solve Sesin's slider. The Waukegan hurler did not face more than four batters in an inning, and after Lewis rapped his second hit of the game in the third, Sesin retired 13 of the last 14 batters he faced.

The only other Kahok to get on base was center fielder Dale Kuechle, who singled in the third and reached on an error in the fifth.

Keene said Waukegan became the first team to shut out the Kahoks since 1978, when Belleville West blasted Collinsville 11-0. He said nerves may have caused the Kahoks' batting problems.

"The kids were tighter for this game than they were when they walked into the park yesterday," Keene said. "I thought it would be the opposite; the season's over after this game anyway."

Waukegan scored its first run in the third, when Sesin led off with a walk, stole second and went to third when catcher Tom Grimm's throw sailed past second baseman Rich Cain. David Carrodine followed with a run-scoring single past first baseman Steve Giacchetto.

The run marked the first time the Kahoks had trailed in the state tournament, and Waukegan added an insurance run in the sixth. Jerry Kutzler led off with a single to center, and he stole second.

After Steve Lambiris grounded out, Kutzler advanced to third on Tim Chess' roller to Giacchetto. With Mark Nagode at the plate, Kutzler scored on a wild pitch by Delkus.

Two runs weren't much, but the Kahoks could not find the form that produced 17 runs in their first two tournament games. Part of that reason was Sesin, who had the luxury of not pitching since the sectional.

"It (Sesin's slider) had to be slipping," Keene said. "We hit a lot of ground balls. We usually hit more line drives."

Waukegan Coach Rick Mowen, who called his team's title "unbelievable," knew that Collinsville could score runs and that the 2-0 lead was not safe.

"I didn't really feel we could win it until the seventh inning tonight," Mowen said. "Sesin has an excellent slider. He can be very tough and he was tonight."

NOTES: Collinsville finishes the year 22-9-1, while Waukegan's championship year ended with a 22-8 mark. Delkus' record dropped to 10-3. With both pitchers throwing well, the game took only 1 hour and 25 minutes to play.

Better defense enables Triplets pair of wins

By ROGER KRAMER

of the Press-Record

In a matter of six days, the Tri-City American Legion baseball team defense went from suspect to reliable.

In the Triplets' first two District 22 games, they committed eight errors, in the next two games Thursday and Saturday, they committed only one error.

Saturday, the Triplets' bats also started to come around at East Alton. Tri-City blasted East Alton 12-4. Tri-City had a rougher time Thursday, but got the job done anyway. The Triplets beat East St. Louis 5-4 at Granite City North.

"We've been getting some pretty good hitting and some pretty good defense. It's still too early to tell how well we're going to do against the good teams, but I think we're capable of hitting well," Tri-City Manager Larry Corey said.

Timely hitting was the big key to the lopsided win against East Alton. Two people, Vince Mitchell and Milt Roe, were responsible for seven runs batted in for the Triplets.

Mitchell picked two RBIs in both the third and the sixth innings. In the third, he hit a two-run homer over the left field fence. Tri-City catcher Daren DePew hit a double prior to that.

Mitchell's RBI single in the sixth sent both DePew and John Linhart home.

Roe also proved to be constructive at the plate with a single which scored Linhart in the fifth inning. Roe's RBI single in the sixth inning was responsible for bringing home both Scott Corey, who was hit by a pitch, and Mitchell.

"That's awfully good to get seven RBIs out of those guys," Corey said. "It makes it a lot easier to win ball games that way."

Tri-City also scored two runs in the second. Mitchell walked, Dave Sheik hit a single. Dan Whitsell, who was the designated hitter for pitcher Jim Burton, walked to force Mitchell home. An error by East Alton's John Pearson on a grounder by Brian Levin brought in Sheik.

For good measure, Tri-City added two more runs in the seventh. DePew walked and Linhart hit a double. Mitchell grounded to Pearson, who bobbed the ball for one error. Pearson then made a bad throw for another error, allowing both DePew and Linhart to score.

On top of the good hitting, the Triplets made few defensive mistakes, allowing Burton to get out of some potential jams.

Burton's only mistake which made a difference was a three run home run he gave up to Shane Gibbs in the second inning, allowing East Alton to tie the score temporarily.

Burton gave up nine hits, walked eight and struck out three. Despite Burton's erratic control, East Alton was unable to take advantage of any scoring chances because of steady fielding by the Triplets.

"I thought Burton did a pretty good job today, and the defense had an excellent game," Corey said.

Whitsell, who was 1-for-5 all season at North, was 2-for-2 Saturday with two singles. He walked his other two times up.

"I don't know how good we really are because I think we have a long way to go yet," Corey said.

Although Tri-City spotted East St. Louis a four run lead in the second inning, the Triplets came from behind to win.

The game-winning run came in the fourth when Levin hit a double and scored on DePew's grounder to third. The third baseman was unable to get Levin on the play.

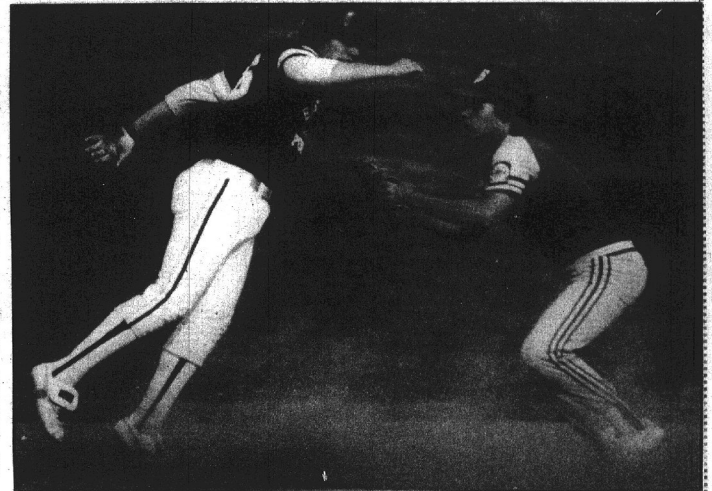

Levin was 2-for-4 in the game, and four other Triplets each had a hit to produce a total of six hits.

Whitsell was the winning pitcher for Tri-City against East St. Louis.

The Triplets take to the field again tonight with a game against the Freeburg American Legion at Mascoutah. Game time is 8 p.m. The Triplets also entertain Edwardsville Wednesday at 6 p.m. at North.

The District 22 North-South All-Star game will be played Friday at Alton, Gordon Moore Park. One of the seven games between the USA and South Korea will be played after the All-Star game.

YOU'RE OUT. Even though East Alton's John Pearson tries to avoid the tag of Tri-City American Legion second baseman Kevin Paterson, Pearson was easily thrown out at second base by catcher Daren DePew in the Triplets' 12-4 win over East Alton Saturday.

Marissa Legion: Still a power to reckon with MARISSA — Marissa's American Legion team may not be what it used to be, but it can still dish out punishment. Tri-City American Legion pitchers gave up eight walks and nine hits, allowing the Marissa Legion to take a 11-7 decision over the Triplets Sunday in Marissa.

The Triplets, 4-3 overall and 3-2 in District 22 action, also had nine hits, but the walks they gave up to Marissa killed them.

"I don't think Marissa is as tough as they have been," Legion Manager Larry Corey said. "We just didn't play very well. The walks hurt us; that's for sure."

Three of the walks came in Marissa's six run second inning, and all three batters who walked scored.

"We need to be a little more consistent in our pitching, but we're not doing too bad hitting," Corey said.

The Triplets did get some good hitting. Milt Roe, Kevin Patterson and Vince Mitchell all came through with two hits each. Daren DePew also added a double to help Tri-City's offense.

Mike Zukas took the loss for the Triplets.

Lewis finishes fourth in Midwest Meet of Champs

John "Skywalker" Lewis could not have found a better way to end his high school high jumping career.

Lewis, a recent Madison High School graduate who finished third in the Class A high jump in May, proved himself to be one of the Midwest's best high jumpers by finishing fourth in the Midwest Meet of Champions Saturday in Fort Wayne, Ind.

In finishing fourth, Lewis leaped 6-11 along with three other jumpers. The number of misses determined the place each jumper received.

Scott Reed of Michigan won the high jump with 7-0. Derrick Spright of Indianapolis Marshall was second with 6-11. Tom Sitt, the Illinois Class A champion from Lisle, was third also with 6-11.

Lewis had one more miss than Sitt and two more that Spright for fourth place. Tom Hughes of Dearborn (Mich.) Edsal Ford also leaped 6-11.

The 6-11 effort was the best effort of Lewis' career. His previous personal best was 6-8 3/4, which he jumped at the Class A Sectional meet at Annajonesboro in May.

"We were pleased that he was able to go that high," Madison track coach Charles Steptoe said. "He barely mis-ed at 7-0, and had the bar been actually at 7-6, he probably would have cleared it. I have no doubt, and he has no doubts he can go 7-0. He really had a tremendous performance."

Lewis is considering attending either Eastern Illinois University at Charleston, Parkland Junior College in Champaign or Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville next year, according to Steptoe.

One final note on Lewis: What really makes Lewis a phenomenon is not that he's jumping 6-8 3/4 or even 6-11. The real phenomenon is that the Trojan high jumper is only 5-feet-8 tall.

MAC hitting falters; falls to E St. Louis

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

MITCHELL—A good defense and a fine pitching staff make winning baseball games a lot easier, but without hitting, even the best defense and finest pitching make winning difficult.

That's what the Junior American Legion team, sponsored by Mitchell Athletic Club, is learning in the roughest of ways.

Last Friday, June 10, against East St. Louis, the Junior Legionnaires managed just three hits and lost to East Side 6-1.

"Things weren't much better Sunday as the local nine travelled to Belleville only to be turned back 4-3. The pair of weekend losses drops MAC's record to 3-4.

The team's lack of hitting the last couple of games has MAC coach Myron Merz searching for an answer.

"I don't really know why we're not hitting right now," Merz began. "The only thing I can figure out is that the off-speed breaking pitches are giving us trouble. I honestly believe that when we meet a fast ball pitcher we're not hitting it."

A fast ball pitcher... That's just what East St. Louis' Kevin Smith was Friday.

Whenever Smith attempted the fastball it went away. It seemed what he gained in speed, he lost in control. But allow him to throw the off-speed stuff and the local boys couldn't touch him.

As mentioned, MAC managed just three hits, although East St. Louis wasn't much better at the plate either. They just seemed that way. In all, East St. Louis managed just six hits off first gamer Sam Tate. The difference being the timeliness of those hits and some untimely walks.

East St. Louis picked up two runs in the first inning on two hits. Lead-off batter Charles Everett doubled to left-center field and second batter, Anthony Smith reached on a walk. Then following a fielder's choice, Everett scored on a sacrifice fly and Derrick Pendergrass singled to left field to score Smith. It seemed so easy: Two hits, two runs.

MAC picked up its only run in its half of the first as Curt Hylla singled to right-center field, stole second and third and then reached home on a passed ball. It was a good thing, too, because the two batters which followed Hylla each struck out.

Although MAC was having its troubles at the plate, East St. Louis didn't look upon that with much sympathy, as they picked up two more runs in the third, one in the sixth and one in the seventh. In both the third and the sixth innings, East St. Louis managed to get the lead-off batters on.

In the third inning, Kevin Smith reached on a walk and then Everett pounded a round tripper to deep left field. Had there been a fence, it surely would have cleared it.

Each of East St. Louis' basemen which scored in the sixth and seventh innings reached on errors. Lead-off batter Larry Strickland reached as Derek Merz committed the miscue and Anthony Smith reached in the seventh as a ball got away from Greg Nemeth.

Strickland scored on a sacrifice fly to leftfield by Adrian Graham in the sixth and Smith scored after Jim Collins tripled.

MAC will try to break even at 4-4 this evening as they take on the Alton Junior Americans this at 6 p.m. at home.

Chiefs drop twinbill to McDonalds

By BELINDA CONLEY
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY—McDonald's took two from the Granite City Chiefs in an Inter-City League doubleheader played Sunday at Wilson Park.

The Chiefs had trouble with hitting and defense in both games, which eventually meant its demise. McDonald's won the first game 5-3, as they scattered nine hits and took advantage of numerous Chief errors. The same can be said of the second game as the Chiefs fell again 8-1.

In the first game, McDonald's started off the scoring in the first inning when John Vrenick singled, sending Danny Patterson home from third.

The Chiefs' Jimmy Small retaliated by scoring on an error by Patterson in the second inning. Dominic Griffin and Bruce Nation each scored a run in the third to put the Chiefs ahead for the only time in the game.

McDonald's John Pritchard scored a run on a passed ball in the fourth, and McDonald's tied it in the fifth when Pat Hogan doubled, stole third, and then scored on a single by Patterson.

Vrenick led off the sixth with a single to right field, and then went to second on a bunt by Steve Flicker. Vrenick scored on an error by the Chiefs' shortstop, Mike Roe. Dan Schaas singled home another run to round out the scoring for the game.

Things did not improve for the Chiefs in the second game. The Chiefs gave up 12 hits, on its way to seventh loss of the season.

Hogan lead the second game off with a walk, then stole second and third, and finally scored on a single to right field by Patterson, who was tagged out trying for third. Pritchard singled and went to second on an error by the pitcher, Ken Wilson. Pritchard then scored on a single to right field in the fifth inning.

The first inning set the pace for the rest of the game. McDonald's scored two in the second, one on a wild pitch, the other on an RBI single by Hogan.

McDonald's led 6-0 in the sixth when the Chiefs scored their only run. Mike McPherson singled and scored on a double up the middle by Griffin.

Although McDonald's soundly defeated the Chiefs, Manager Ray Harris was not satisfied with his team's performance. He felt his team "played fairly well" but stated that they would have to start hitting better.

"If we had played another team today, we would have been in trouble," Harris said. However, not wanting to belittle the Chiefs, the McDonald's coach also added, "Considering that this is the Chiefs' first year in the league, they are playing very well."

McDonald's record is now 6-1. They will play league leading Edwardsville Wednesday night at Wilson Park, to make up a game lost to rain earlier in the season.

McDonalds will resume regular Inter-City this Sunday when they take on the National Edwardsville.

The Chiefs will face the Maryville Red Sox in Granite City. Both games begin at 1 p.m.

Spanky's racks up two wins as streak continues

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE—The 7-Up/Spunky's baseball team, on a seven-game winning streak, ran its record to 15-2 by sweeping a pair of double-headers here Saturday and Sunday over the Capahas of Cape Girardeau.

Saturday, at the local Hoppe Park, it was 10-6, and 4-3. Yesterday afternoon at SIU-E's Cougar Field it was by scores of 8-3 and 7-5.

The 1979 Civics, from whom the 7-Up/Spunky's evolved, have won 10 straight. Tonight, at 7:45, they play at Maryville College against the Solar Points. Tuesday at 7:45 p.m., at Granite City South, the Marliss Merchants will furnish the opposition. And Wednesday night, again in a 7:45 game with the St. Louis Browns, the 7-Up/Spunky's could tie their winning streak record—with a trio of wins.

Sunday, it appeared that Coach Eldon Warfield and his charges would have no problems extending their victory streak after they had breezed to an opening game 8-3 victory and were leading 7-1 going into Cape's last time at bat.

As the seventh frame opened, Warfield, as has been his practice the last four games, called on his relief ace, Bill Morton, to preserve starter Mark Bueton's 7-1 advantage.

Spunky's leadoff man, Scott Wachter, hit Morton's first pitch deep to center, a skiver which apparently fooled Bill Stulte. The next man fanned, but Morton appeared to lose his control and walked shortstop, Blake Miller.

Then NCAA division II all-American catcher for Southeast Missouri State, Steve Williams, blasted a one-and-two pitch almost on to Bluff Road for a homer. And, suddenly, it was a 7-4 game.

Next man up, rightfielder Scott Little, singled to left. The next man walked and Mark Simmons drove in the losers' fifth run on a fielders choice.

Designated hitter, Howard

Quigley, singled over second and in came pinchhitter Chris Janet.

Morton, who has "saved" four games for his mates, opened and whiffed Janet on four pitches.

Saturday night, it was a different story: the locals had to rally to overtake Cape in the second game with two runs in the seventh and final frame, even though Jerry Vitale of the 7-Up/Spunky's just allowed the visitors three hits. However, his brother, John Vitale, gave Jerry his victory after Tom Greco had led off with a triple, by singling him home with the winning run.

In Saturday's 10-6 opening victory (for the 7-Up/Spunky's), it was Greco's and Stulte's big bats which gave the winners their edge. Greco blasted out a pair of fourbaggers and Stulte had one.

Mark Demien, winner of Saturday's first game, and Jerry Vitale, now lead the 7-Up/Spunky's pitching staff with three victories and no defeats. Vitale, a graduate of

Gateway Nationals expect 500

The 1983 AHRRA Gateway Nationals will kick off on June 24, 25, and 26 at St. Louis International Raceway, just south of Granite City.

One of the eight American Hot Rod Association Grand American national championship drag racing events, this race, brings the largest and quickest traveling car show to St. Louis. Representing over $20 million worth of racing machines and support equipment it is also the most expensive.

In the most powerful racing categories in the world, Top Fuel and Fuel Funny Cars, are the top superstars of the sport. These are the people who strap themselves to 3,000 horsepower and in less than six seconds are approaching the finish line at over 250 miles-per-hour.

Early pre-entries show that this year will field the largest contingent of superstars ever. "Big Daddy" Don Garlits, Shari Muldowney, Don "Snake" Prudhomme, Tom Mongoose, McEwen, Frank Bradley, Jerry

"King" Ruth, John Abbott, Chris Karamessines, John Force, and John Collins are early names to appear on the pre-entry list.

By race time, several dozen more are expected to enter to make this the biggest show in St. Louis history.

Friday, June 24, and Saturday, June 25, gates will open at 10 a.m. On Sunday, June 26, the gates will open at 11 a.m., and final pre-race national will begin at 4 p.m.

Q: I realize why a bank will not pay on an out-of-town check until it has cleared. However, is there any way of speeding things up?

A: Although banks must use caution on personal checks drawn on an out-of-town bank, arrangements can often be made to draw immediately on regular payroll or U.S. Treasury checks you deposit. If there is an emergency, you might ask your bank to use its account or other account you have at the bank as security until the check clears. A specific check can be cleared immediately by requesting the bank to use electronic procedures for transferring funds. There is usually a charge for this service. Direct deposit is an excellent idea for social security, veterans benefits or other federal payments. And, if you're moving, and wish to close your accounts, but require the transfer to be made quickly, ask your bank to transfer your account funds electronically instead of by check. Consult with a bank officer to find the simplest answer to your specific problem.

High priced soup on Pike's Peak

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

As you regular readers of this column may have already guessed, Charlie Cox, the brilliant staff photographer on the News Service at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, is one of my favorite people.

His technical brilliance at his craft is acknowledged by everyone who knows him, but none more than the staff photographers at the St. Louis Globe-Democrat and the Post-Dispatch. His pictures have been printed around the world.

And, he's a warm human being and a man with firm convictions. In fact, I believe he's still very much the country boy who was born and raised up in the eastern part of the state of Illinois near and Louisville, Allamont and Kinnouly.

A graduate of the University of Illinois school of journalism, Charlie, after a short stint as a weekly publisher, which he didn't care for too much, took a job, I think it was, with McKendree College and then when SIUE-Edwardsville opened, up he came to Edwardsville.

On the campus at SIUE, there isn't anyone more known than Charlie and his bubble gum and his booming voice and big smile.

In my job at SIUE, I work closely with Charlie for 14 years. On really important stories, he even accompanied the athletic teams on their road trips.

One such trip was to Colorado in 1974 when the soccer team had an important game with the Air Force Academy and what turned out to be a real toughie, against Colorado College. It was in the game against Colorado College that one of the Cougars' greatest players, Greg (The Face) Makowski, made his debut. SIUE was held scoreless the first half and nearly all the last half when Pat McBride, assistant to Bob Guelker, suggested putting Makowski into the game.

The Face came through; the first two times he got his "foot" on the ball, he penetrated the length of the field in his customary slambang fashion to win for the Cougars, 2-0.

In between the Air Force game and the Colorado College fracas, Cox and I decided to take an auto trip to the top of Pike's Peak.

With my eyes closed tightly (I've that fear of heights), our auto group headed for the top of Pike's Peak. But, worse luck, at about 400 feet from the top, our car was stopped at a small restaurant because the peak was snowed in. And, we weren't allowed to go on. So, old Charlie, who is a real trencherman, says to me "Let's get something to eat... say a bowl of soup."

And we did. The soup was just so-so, but when Charlie got his bill I thought he was going to pass out.

It came to a staggering $4.50, which would have been a little bit rough even in the old Gold Rush Days around Denver years ago.

It spoiled the whole trip for him. In fact, I suspect that he has never really recovered from his shock.

A great guy.

ANNUAL HONOR. Miss Tomara Taylor, left, receives the Loubeth Wittkamp Scholarship award from Principal Arthur Menendez of Mitchell School. Miss Taylor, who was in the Granite City High School North 1983 graduating class, ranked highest among former Mitchell School students in high school. The Mitchell School PTA presented the scholarship in the name of Loubeth Wittkamp, who retired in 1982 as a teacher at Mitchell School. She was a past president and longtime historian of the schools PTA.

South, North names now history; set price of home

South High and North High are no more.

North is being transformed into Granite City college.

On Tuesday night, South was renamed. It will be the only high school (9th to 12th grades) operating in District Nine in 1983-84. The School Board:

—Changed the name back to what it was before there were two high schools, in 1973. Some school officials thought it was Granite City, Senior High School and some thought it was Granite City High School. Research is planned.

—Designated Warriors as the name of teams at the combined high school.

—Retained red and black as the oldest high school's colors, dating back to 1920, and authorized use of gray and other uniforms until they wear out.

Student council members and administrators proposed two-year or three-year designation of the colors as red, black and gray but Monroe Worthen and some of the other board members stressed the red and black tradition in the school's and community's history.

Full use can be made of various uniforms, including some that contain silver, on a basis coordinated by the school. But the expense of adding a color to any existing uniforms is to be avoided, and future uniform orders will be for red and black.

In other business, the board established $84,900 as the price of the latest residence constructed as a learning process by high school building trades students.

Since no bids were received, it was decided to make the home available through all agencies in the Granite City Board of Realtors multiple listing service.

Discussion of the proposed sale took place publicly; potential purchase of property can be discussed privately, to avoid price escalation. Permitting both property sales and purchases to be reviewed privately is one of the legislative proposals being backed by the Granite City board and the Illinois Association of School Boards, but the law change has not been enacted.

No action was taken on a request by Nameoki Presbyterian Church to buy part of the adjacent Nameoki School site. The board is reluctant to do so because of any possible effect on future sale or lease proposals. Nameoki is one of five elementary schools being closed; no formal offers for them have been received.

Cooperative parking arrangements between the church and school have existed for many years. The church in mid-May revised its request from 100x295 feet to 50x295 feet.

The church said it could be short of parking space if there was a new owner of the school in the future, particularly if the church expands its building.

The board was told 4,178 children obtained fingerprints in April as part of families' efforts to combat the national problem of missing youngsters.

The building fund tax warrant borrowing limit was increased from $200,000 to $300,000.

Senators oppose decontrol of gas

By SENATOR SAM VADALABENE

The Illinois General Assembly is winding its way toward a scheduled June 30 adjournment date with what promises to be a frenzied flurry of activity.

No doubt the proposed tax increase package will draw the lion's share of attention during the waning days of the spring session of the 83rd General Assembly.

There also has been a good deal of debate over legislation regulating nuclear waste and hazardous waste.

And, of course, there are hundreds of local issues and concerns which must be debated before we head home for summer recess.

An interesting development took place last week, a development which I believe escaped the attention of most of those who monitor the events in Springfield.

The Illinois Senate approved, on a 48-0 vote, a non-binding resolution which calls upon Congress to pass federal legislation extending price controls on natural gas.

The resolution, which will be conveyed to each member of the Illinois Congressional delegation, supports legislation which would roll back natural gas prices to the 1982 ceiling, through 1987.

While our own resolution is non-binding, it is symbolically significant.

I have witnessed an increasing awareness among fellow legislators of the skyrocketing prices of natural gas in Illinois.

I believe the Illinois General Assembly has responded dutifully to the concerns of consumers who feel helpless when their heating bills arrive and they are forced to wonder where the money will come from to meet those bills.

The legislature has been very receptive to complaints concerning utility bills.

Legislation has been considered this spring to require gas companies to purchase domestic natural gas before they may even consider purchasing foreign natural gas, which often costs eight times more than domestic gas.

We have looked at legislation which gives consumers every benefit of the doubt, every opportunity to make installment payments over a 12-month period, before a utility can shut off their heat for lack of payment.

And last week we continued to send a message to all concerned that the General Assembly will not sit idly by while the citizens of this state are having to struggle to make ends meet through no fault of their own.

We must continue to trust ourselves to reason; it is unreasonable to ask utility companies to operate at a loss or even at a meager profit.

But it is the Constitutional duty of the Assembly to protect the health and welfare of the people of Illinois.

I am of the belief that the health and welfare of all Illinoisans include the right to warmth and comfort during the cold winter months.

Our action on Senate Resolution 77 may not have made the headlines. It may not have been covered by television or radio. But it represents, I believe, a continuing attitude among members of the General Assembly.

It is an attitude which will not change, I am confident, until the rates charged for natural gas and electricity are brought under control and made more reasonable, for all of the people of Illinois.

Area PTA Council elects and presents scholarships

The Area PTA Council met at Parkway School for installation of new officers and heard announcements of scholarship recipients and contest winners.

Mrs. Virginia Apperson, District Director 29 of Illinois, installed the officers to serve for the forthcoming year.

They include, Mrs. June Nightwine Branding, president, Larry Hahne, vice-president, Bea Stevenson, treasurer, Marilyn Laycock, corresponding secretary, and Betty Haridson, recording secretary.

Each officer received a token gift to remind them of the importance of their obligation in office.

Since none of the 13 schools received the "Oscar" twice during the past year for outstanding bulletin boards, the statue will be retained and used for the next fiscal year, the president announced.

Mrs. Branding also announced names of the recipients of the two $700 Area Council scholarship winners. From Granite City High School North was Julie Hill and Monica Rea from Granite City High School South. She presented both girls the scholarships at the senior recognition day, it was noted.

Area students participated in the Illinois Cultural Arts project, which was divided into three categories, music, art and literature. Competition was judged in relation to the theme of "Life in These United States," Mrs. Branding explained.

There were 15 winners in art and eight in literature on a local basis, then the entries were given to another group of judges and district winners were selected. Of this event there were five winners in art and five in literature and their works will be displayed at the PTA convention.

Overall grand prize winners in the intermediate level were, Jay Hanks, fifth grader at Mitchell School, Chris Johnson, second grade, Parkway School, Nathan Branding, third grade, Nameoki School and fourth grade students, Stacie Kennerly, Bryan McKeehan and Dixie Price, all of Parkway School. Honorable mention went to Jennifer Valbert of Parkway.

Fifth grade winners included, Theresa Price, Jennifer Winters, David Dunlap and honorable mention, Jerry Richardson and Jennifer Hicks, all of Mitchell School. Sixth graders were, Lisa Young, Parkway, Christine Woehrl, Mitchell and honorable mention to Amy Willard of Parkway.

District winners were, Jay Henke and Theresa Price, both fifth graders at Mitchell School, Chris Johnson, second grade and Stacie Kennerly, fourth grade of Parkway School, and Nathan Branding, third grade at Nameoki School.

Area winners named included, Kirsten Lewis, sixth grader, and Leah Jamil, second grader, first; second to Ricky Thomas, second grade, and Abby Adelsberger, sixth grade; and third to David Chapman, third grade, all of Parkway School.

Honorable mention in this category was awarded to Krista Morgan, sixth grade, Beth Ann Bolandis, fourth grade, of Parkway, and Missy Tarasovich, fifth grade of Mitchell.

District winners in literature went to the state level were, Kirsten Lewis, Krista Morgan, David Chapman, Leah Jamil and Abby Adelsberger, all of Parkway School.

PAMELA STAVELLY of 3341 Harvard Pl., Granite City, was a finalist in the Miss Illinois Scholarship Pageant. Miss Stavelly, a sophomore at the University of Illinois, is studying physiology in the pre-med program and currently holds on "A" average.

Chapter HT closes season

Chapter HT, P.E.O. Sisterhood, held its final meeting of the season, last week, at the home of Mrs. Richard Kerch, 2910 State St. The members plan to resume sessions on Oct. 10.

Mrs. Leo Konzen, president, conducted the business segment, and announced that Lin Comer of Chapter LS, Collinsville, will attend the International Convention in Houston, Texas, this fall and will give a report of the event to local chapters.

Highlights of the state convention, which was in session at the University of Illinois campus in Urbana, were reviewed by Mrs. Konzen and Mrs. Carl Mathias. They noted over 900 members and visitors attended the 3-day convention.

Former resident announces reunion

The 1933 graduating class of Herculaneum High School in Herculaneum, Mo., will celebrate its 50th class reunion on Sept. 10, at the Robin-Hood, Pevely, Mo., according to D. Elmer Cutbirth of Marble Hill, Mo., a former Granite City resident.

Mr. Cutbirth, who was the class president, noted the class was the largest to date, 28 graduates, in the school's history.

Mr. and Mrs. Cutbirth were married in Granite City on Oct. 9, 1937, and their two children, Larry Dean and Karen Sue, were born in St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The family moved to the Cincinnati area in 1946 and in October of 1975 Mr. Cutbirth retired and moved to his present address.

Agreement on mobile park billing methods

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

A billing agreement has been reached between Larry Yust, owner of the Sunny Shores Mobile Home Park, and the Madison County Sanitary Sewer Committee.

The committee Wednesday agreed to bill Yust according to meter readings taken during normal conditions.

Recent heavy rainfall has caused ground water to infiltrate the sewer system at the mobile home park, parallel with Interstate 270.

Yust appealed to the committee, saying that runoff water from property owned by General Electric Co. seeped into his property and entered the sewer system.

Billing for the mobile home park is determined according to flow through the pipes, which increased significantly with the record rainfall the area has experienced.

Service area Superintendent Gene Futch said that the meter readings were closer to normal until last Thursday's four-inch rain, when the readings again increased.

Billing Supervisor Larry Bilbrey, Yust and Futch reached the agreement. Bilbrey said the billing figure reached still is a little higher than average, but is "more realistic."

Yust has told the committee he will repair the sewer system and place storm pipes in the park at his own expense.

In other matters, Futch reported that the service area office did not initially pass its fire inspection because of boxes stored in the garage area.

To comply with the Mitchell Fire Department, the service area purchased additional fire extinguishers. The boxes contain records and papers from the county courthouse and have been a cause of problems for the service area because of the space they occupy.

Futch also announced that all lines in the Quiet Valley subdivision have been flushed clean and should be free from blockage for three years. It took 10,000 gallons of water to flush the lines.

The committee also approved a recommendation from Futch not to charge the KOA Campgrounds for 29,000 gallons of water that will be used to fill a new swimming pool. Bilbrey said the billing difference would be about $50. The committee agreed it was unfair to charge the campgrounds, which is billed on consumption, for the water when it actually would not involve the sewer system.

Police nab Madison man wanted on 2 warrants

Madison and Venice police nabbed two men, one of whom was wanted on two warrants, after authorities spotted one of them walking in Madison last week.

Tony Ford, 22, of 1049 Douglas St., Madison, wanted on warrants alleging failure to appear in court on an unlawful use of a weapon charge and a probation violation, and Edward "Mitch" Coleman Sr., 33, of 34 Venice Homes, Venice, were both taken to the Madison County Jail following their arrests.

They were apprehended after Venice Police Chief

Farris Smith told Madison police that Ford was seen walking on Market Street near Washington Avenue.

Ford and Coleman fled when they saw the police. A blue pistol, with six live rounds, was found by police, who alleged seeing Ford place the gun on the ground after he started running with Coleman toward Grenzer Homes.

Coleman was caught, but Ford escaped and police later received an anonymous tip that he was hiding in an apartment at Grenzer Homes. Smith obtained a search warrant and a pass key to enter an apartment, whose owner said that Ford was not there.

Ford was found hiding in a bedroom closet. After being arrested, police allege that Ford broke an arm hold and ran west toward Washington Avenue. He was caught at Washington and Collinsville avenues and charged with escape.

Labor parade

meeting set

Plans for the September Labor Day parade currently are being completed, Edwin Reiske, secretary and treasurer of the Granite City Trades and Labor Council said. Participation is being requested of all Quad-City unions.

The Labor Temple Association is inviting all parade monitors to an organizational meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Labor Temple, 2014 State St.

Reiske said the parade this year should be bigger than the ones the last two years, when the idea of a local Labor Day parade was revived.

The parade will include three bands, the Granite City High School Band, the Shrine's Oriental Band and a group to be provided by the Musician's Protective Union Local 717.

Mayor Paul Schuler is expected to lead the parade. Buddy W. Davis, United Steelworkers of America, District 34 director, will be the grand marshal.

Local unions will provide floats for the event, and all other local organizations are invited to participate and show their support. Those interested in participating should leave the Kins, 452-1130, at least a week before the parade.

Reiske's main concern this year is that union organizations that did not take part in previous parades will participate this year.

The parade will start at Niedringhaus and Edison avenues at 10 a.m. on Sept. 5 and go down Madison Ave. Floats will start assembling at 8 a.m. at the Labor Temple at Granite City High School.

At the parade's conclusion, a tug-of-war will be conducted at Bellemeade Village Shopping Center.

Allege DUI in accident

meeting set

John R. Barnes, 29, of 2319 E. 24th St., was booked on four charges, including driving under the influence of alcohol, following an accident in which four persons were injured at 12:10 p.m. Saturday.

Witnesses alleged Barnes was driving south on Madison Avenue and made a left turn onto 26th Street, pulling into the path of a northbound vehicle operated by Gerald L. Morgan Jr., 20, of 440 Madison Ave.

Morgan and a passenger in his vehicle, Michelle M. Fleetwood, 22, of the 1400 block of Madison Avenue, sustained injuries and were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Terry Catterson, 18, of 2810 E. 24th St., a passenger in Barnes' auto, likewise, was injured and was taken to the medical center by ambulance.

He had to be extricated with the Hurst rescue tool.

When police arrived at the scene, the two vehicles involved were hooked together, sitting on the northeast curb of the intersection.

Barnes was released at 4:30 p.m. Saturday after posting a $102 cash bond on the DUI charge. Morgan was charged with driving while his license was suspended and was released on notice to appear for a hearing.

At police headquarters, Barnes declined to take a breathalyzer test and was transported to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he refused to be treated and signed a release form.

In addition to the DUI charge, Barnes was charged with disorderly conduct, charged with driving while his license was suspended and was released on notice to appear for a hearing.

Officers were advised by a member of the fire department's EMT-rescue team that the emergency crew was experiencing problems with Barnes, who allegedly was interfering with efforts to extricate the passenger from Barnes' vehicle.

Barnes, who was bleeding from a facial injury, was advised to get into the ambulance, but reportedly declined, saying he would take care of his "buddy" himself, reports stated.

When he refused to get into the ambulance a second time, men pulled away from an officer. Barnes was placed under arrest.

It was alleged an open can of beer was on the floorboard of Barnes' auto. Two more open cans of beer were found in the back seat of the vehicle, together with three unopened cans, it was alleged.

STEPHEN MACHT has been pegged to join HELEN HAYES (as Miss Marple) and JAMESON PARKER in "Agatha Christie's Caribbean Mystery" for CBS. The two-hour movie is yet another in the Christie mystery series. There'll be two or three on next season.

A series based on the book "Hotel" seems a sure bet for a berth on the ABC schedule next season. JAMES BROLIN will star as the hotel manager, but he'll be answering to BETTE DAVIS, who has agreed to appear in seven of every 13 episodes as the hotel owner. It was producer AARON SPELLING who lured Bette to series. He also has placed BILLY DEE WILLIAMS in "Shooting Stars," which ABC is said to be high on.

VALERIE HARPER will be on the big screen in "Only In Rio," playing wife to MICHAEL CAINE. She'll also have an affair with JOE BOLOGNA.

OF SPORTS "Swimming And Diving" Reggie visits the McDonald's USS Junior Olympic Short Course Swimming Championship and the Longhorn Diving Competition at Austin's famed Texas Swimming Center.
